The Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-six Eighty-seven Washingtonian to the memory of Betsy Bracy. Betsy was a respected teacher, a leader, and still serves as an inspiration to us all. Betsy passed away Christmas 1986. Her smile and enthusiasm will continue to motivate those who knew her.

"Don't rock the boat."

"Mr. Bray- always helpful"

Deep meditation

"Welcome to the wonderful world of Administration."

SMILE!

The administration staff, which consists of four administrators, has been divided into sections according to their tasks. Mr. Rabeneau is responsible for student management, while Mr. Bray is responsible for counseling and instruction. Mrs. Smith provides services on the school's curriculum. And finally, Dr. Talken, who is our principal at W.H.S. Let's thank the administration for working so hard to make Washington the best!

WASHINGTON

Mr. Lane

Mrs. Polland

Mrs. Real

Mr. Stull

Will it never end?

So what exactly is a counselor? It's someone to turn to when there's an error in your schedule, when you're having problems in a particular class, when you need some help in choosing the right college, or when you just need someone to talk to. Fortunately here at WHS we have four super counselors who, by getting involved and proving to us how much they care, make dealing with the ups and downs of high school all that much easier.

COUNSELORS

And for 3rd period we'll put you in . . .

Paperwork, paperwork, paperwork . . .

Well don't just stand there, c'mon in!

Don't Ya Just Love Em?

Just wait, I'll be right there.

Yes ma'am, he's doing just fine I assure you.

It sure is a fine day.

Have you ever stopped to think about what this school would look like without our custodians? No doubt it would appear far from great. And although they're rarely shown the appreciation they deserve, it's the diligence and dedication of our janitorial staff that helps to make our campus a beautiful place.

SPIRIT WEEK • ALL SCHOOL RALLY

Husky Finalists at the Spirit Week rally.

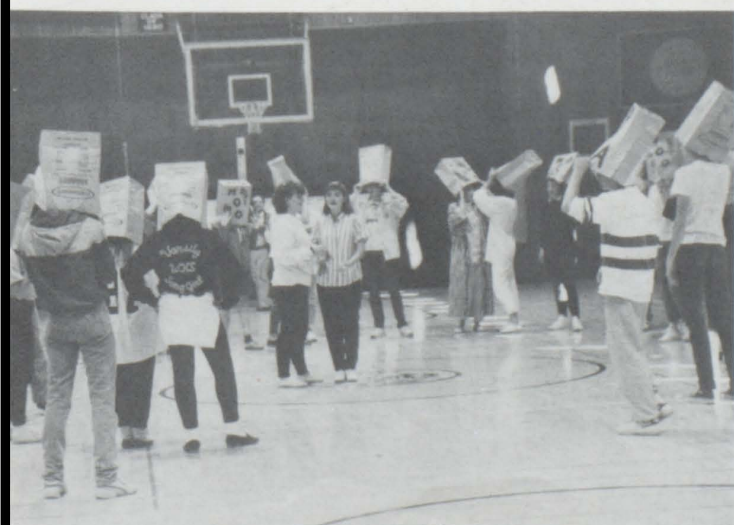

Seniors motivate the crowd.

Sensational Seniors show their spirit.

The Washington Zoo.

"No Peeking!"

Having a good time at the rally!

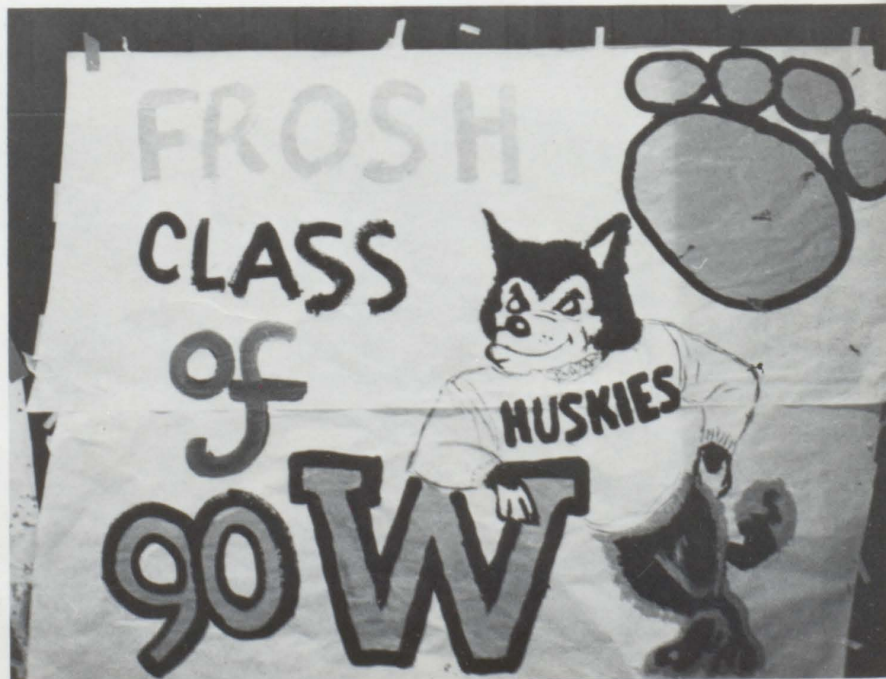

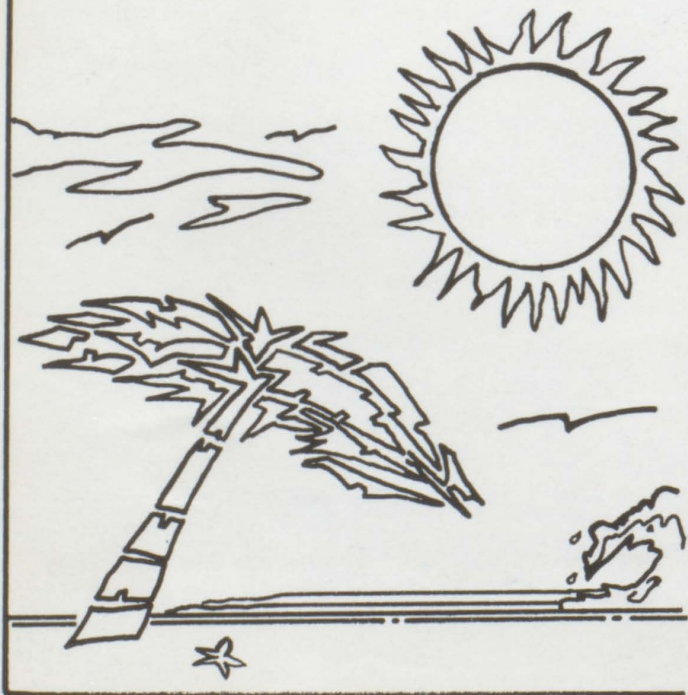

FRESHMEN

Make love not war.

"Come on surfin' now, everybodys learning how,
come on surf safari with me!"

It's time to hit the beach for the coolest surf contest ever with Hank the Husky pulling out into first place. Sudden circumstances occur and it seems as if Hank has drowned. The truth is that he's really been captured by the Moreau Mariners. Washington is shocked and upset at the loss. That night at the Homecoming football game in which we're losing Hank appears giving spirit to all and enabling the Huskies to win the game!

Hank, the Big Kahuna.

When life gets tough, the tough get teddy bears.

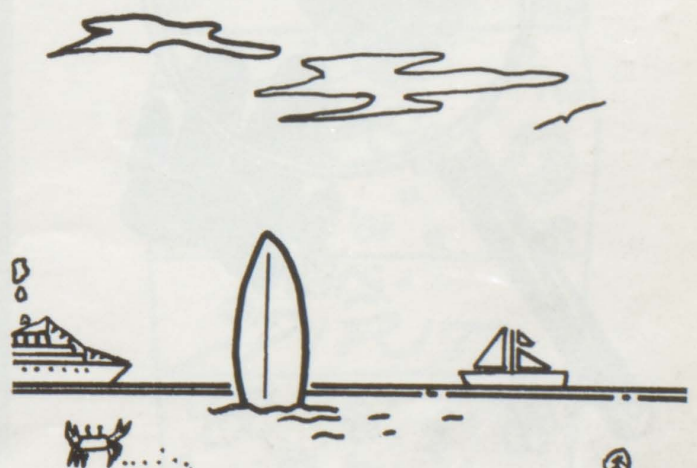

Lifeguards on duty.

What a mess.

Freshmen come together.

SOPHOMORES

It was like any other day, until she walked in and told of the horrid crime. Someone had stolen the spirit of WHS. The clues presented led me to a bar where I met up with Papaya Joe. After countless tips, I finally got some info I could use, besides being able to pick a mean papaya.

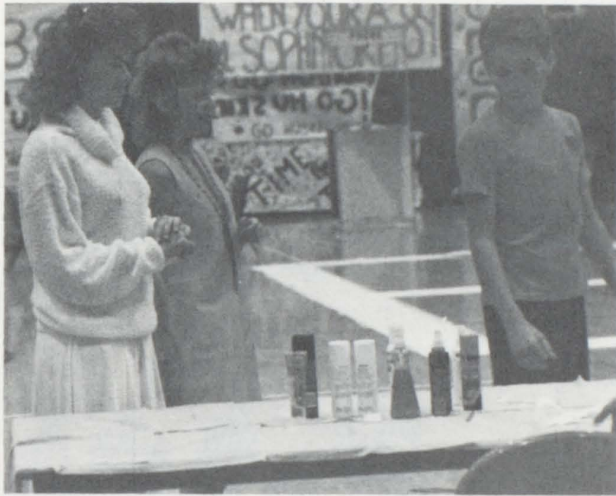

After traveling to the beauty parlor and then the shoe store, I came upon the trail of Big Foot, Little Foot. The trail led to his hang-out where I recovered the stolen spirit.

Sophomores sport the latest fashions.

How much for a cut and a blow?

I finally decided to take the case.

"Now to pick the perfect papaya . . . "

JUNIORS

The lights dim, an eerie silence occurs, and an old man appears whispering, "Gather round children and listen as I tell you the story of Hank and the Beanstalk." Junior spirit shines in an old fashioned fairytale depicting Hank's crusade for the anecdote to cure Washington's loss of spirit. Courageously he climbed the beanstalk and lifted the bottle of anecdote from the wicked Giant. But the Giant did not give up so easily and pursued Hank until upon reaching the bottom Hank axed the beanstalk. Thus enabling him to restore the spirit of Washington High.

Your in the army now Juniors.

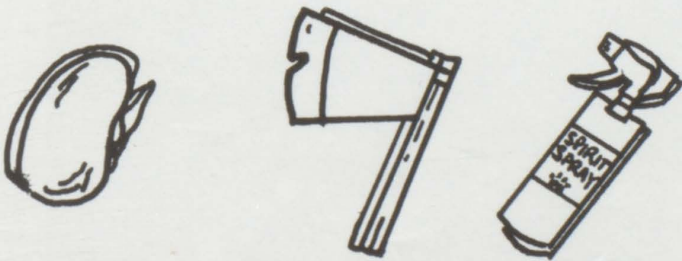

Scientists say "Sunrays can be damaging to your skin."

Well isn't that special.

Juniors jammed in gym.

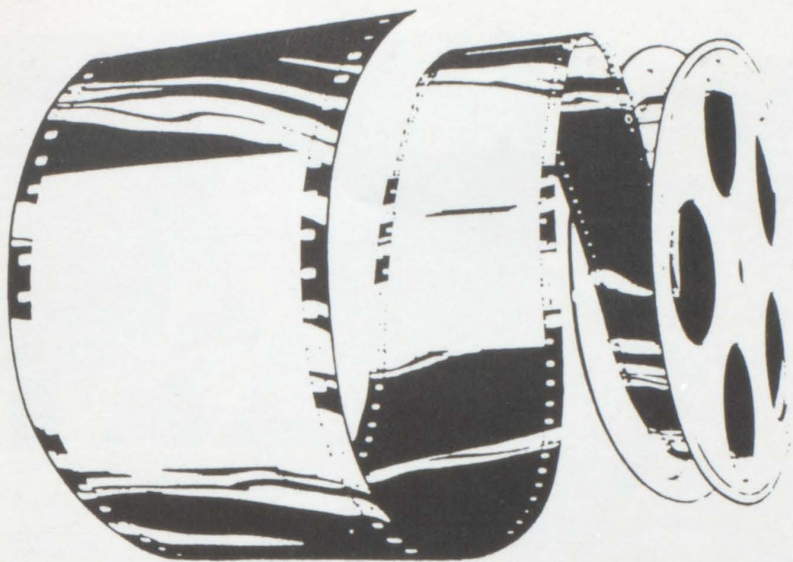

SENIORS

The Seniors take Center Stage, battling it out in lip-sinc versions of STV. Bands from all schools competed to be picked to represent their Spirit of true unity and pride. Only one of the schools outshone all of the others. Singing Louie Louie, the Seniors of Washington High topped them all, capturing not only the featured spot on STV, but the trophy for Spirit Week also.

Seniors capture trophy.

MR. HUSKY

1986-87

Mike has done a lot to deserve the honor of Mr. Husky. In his sophomore year he was elected class treasurer. For two years he was on student council as elections commissioner. This year Mike did a great job as ASB vice president. Mike also spent time playing sports as a member of the track team, the cross country team, and the baseball team. Thanks Mike for all your time and effort.

CAROL TING

During her four years at Washington, Carol has been dedicated to both her class and to school. In her freshman year she was class treasurer. As a sophomore and a junior she was class vice-president. This year, as president, Carol has led her class to another great year. For four years she was an active member of CSF. She also played volleyball, with two years on the varsity team. We thank Carol for all her dedication and hard work.

To produce an issue of the Washingtonian was a much larger task than this years staff had ever imagined. To meet the designated deadlines took a lot of hard work and diligence on the part of everyone as each person was responsible for completing his/her own layouts, choosing photographs, and typing cypsheets. Each page of this book represents an enormous amount of effort and dedication, and although completing this yearbook was certainly no easy job, somehow it was successfully done-Congratulations Staff!

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

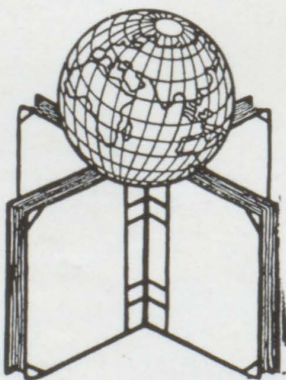

Hi, my name is Pierre Herbaud and I am from France. I am 18 years old and I came to the United States with an organization called Youth For Understanding. I have been to England twice on a student exchange program and I really enjoyed it. I started learning English when I was 11 years old. I came here to reach a higher level of proficiency in speaking English, to be in contact with the American way of life, and to get some ideas concerning the development of the American society. I am having a good time over here and I have found that the people are very nice. I enjoy meeting new people and spending time with my host family, Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers. Teenagers are a lot different here than in France. When I return home at the end of the school year, I plan to attend a university in Marseille or Paris as I have already passed my "baccalaureat" to work for an airline company.

Hello. Most American teenagers would like to visit Europe and likewise European teenagers want to see America. I am very curious and I love to travel. I decided, then, to drop everything and to become a Belgian exchange student (even though I feel more American than Belgian). This continent is so different, incomparable, gigantic, and interesting. This is the most exciting year of my life. I'll be glad to go back to Belgium but I know that I'll miss America a lot (and I'll be in trouble with my French). I am sure that I will come back again and see you in a few years. "Amicalement," Martine.

My name is Omaira Rivera and I'm from Panama, a fun little country with a lot of soul. It has been a great experience to come to the United States, since in my country, America is very popular. Now I have the chance to really get to know how the Americans really are and not just in the movies. Maybe Americans will get the chance to get a sample of my little teenagers paradise.

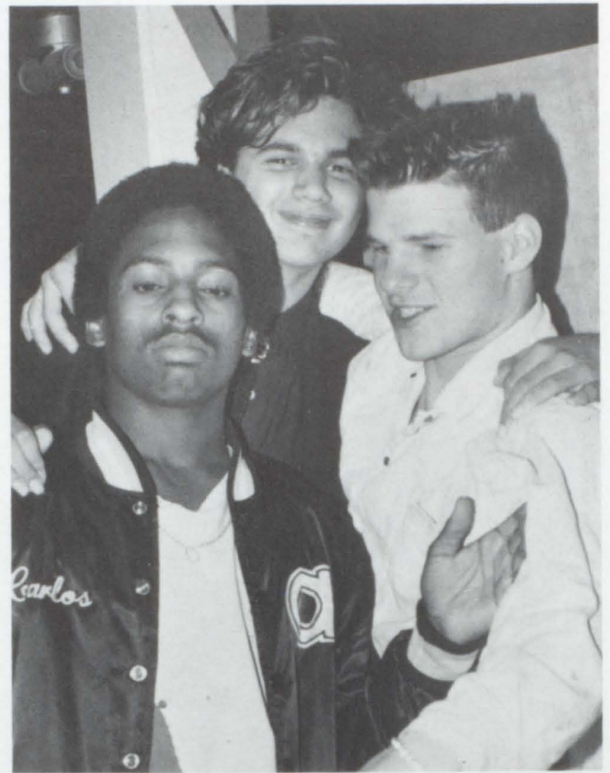

My name is Tarja Kaipainen and I am your Finnish exchange student. I came here on the 14th of August and I will leave on the 13th of June. I've enjoyed my year here a lot. I have many good friends here and it is going to break my heart when it comes time to go home. School is boring everywhere, but I like Washington very much. When I am back home, I'll be going to college. Someday, hopefully, I want to be a veterinarian. I want to say "Thanks" to all my teachers and especially to my family. They are great, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas and my sister Jackie! It's great when home's for us. I will never forget you, Tarja.

RALLY GROUP

1986—87

This year the Rally Group underwent a drastic change. All J.V. squads were eliminated and the Varsity squads were increased in size. This did not mean however, that the Junior Varsity sports were forgotten by the spirit leaders. Every week an alternating portion of each squad was present and cheered on both the J.V. and Varsity teams. The girls adjusted magnificently to a new and unfamiliar routine, and all should be commended on a job well done.

This year the Varsity Songleaders, headed by Rhonda Martin accomplished a great deal. U.S.A. summer camp was a terrific success for these ten girls. They received a Superior Banner for a routine in which they choreographed themselves, a Spirit Stick to take home, a Superior Trophy, Superior Ribbons for each girl, and they were proud to be the winners of the UNITY AWARD!. They were also the first squad from W.H.S. to compete in the Omega Competition. They proved their ability by bringing home the First Place Trophy! Their high energy and spirit continued throughout the school year. Great job, Songleaders!

The Varsity Lettergirls, led by Kelle Stockton did a superb job at U.S.A. summer camp in Santa Cruz. Their high-energy routine in which they made up at home won them a spectacular Superior Banner! They showed their determination and enthusiasm throughout the four days at camp and were greatly rewarded by receiving the "Hardest Working Squad" trophy! That same spirit was executed by them throughout the school year. Nice job, girls!

The 1986 Husky football team featured a young squad with only six Lettermen returning from last season's NCS Semi-finalist. Because 29 seniors have departed from that glorious bunch, local sports columnists wrote off the Huskies in preseason about their chances of repeating their championship status. In fact, no writer expected them to finish higher than fifth place. But boy, did those Huskies prove them wrong. Not only did the young team improve and mature as the year went along, but they were in first place for five weeks and found themselves playing for the league championship in the last game of the season. Unfortunately, their bid for a third consecutive trip to NCS came up short as they were defeated, but not without a fight, 21-7 by Mission San Jose. This young Husky team has done a great job this year and will definitely be a great threat in the MVAL next year.

Laying it on the line

This year's Homecoming Game was played on October 25 and was against the new-comers of MVAL- The Moreau Mariners. The Huskies have lost two previous engagements with the Mariners, one of which was a 21-14 heartbreaker just last season. But on this day the Huskies were out to avenge those losses. They dominated all four quarters of play on both offense and defense and SANK THE MARINERS 21-0

After completing one of the most successful seasons in the past few years the girls' volleyball team said goodbye to 7 seniors and Coach Dean. The team's 17-record and 2nd place finish, and those are only statistics. The offense was sparked by all-leaguers Kym Kean and Shannon Abrams. Adding to the attack were Mary Holkenbrink and Cassandra Richmond. Saving many points in the back row were Tabby Elliott, Monica Wittkamp and another all-league selection Deanna Lutz. Setting the offensive attacks were seniors Carol Ting and Susan Hollingshaus. The team had many ups and downs during the season but despite everything they pulled through and remained undefeated until the last two games of the season. It was a job well done by everyone participating. The volleyball team would like to thank Coach Dean for all the support she gave throughout this season and many others in the past. Thanks Coach Dean for a super year.

For the last two years the Huskies have been beaten in the first round of Shaynessey playoffs and haven't been able to but not this year. This year they won the M.V.A.L. league championship with a record of 14-0. They also made it to NCS. Leading the Huskies was Deanna Lutz. She has exceptional ballhandling skills and plays great defense. Playing the shooting guards were Shannon Abrams and Lori Holding. Down underneath they had Kym Kean and Mary Holkenbink. Coming off the bench were Tabby Elliott, Susan Hollingshaus, Cassie Richmond and Jennifer Wlodarczyk. Great Job Huskies.

"Look at that beautiful sky."

Ah, Swimming . . .

"FIRST CALL WOMENS 500 YARD FREESTYLE" UGH! Why do I subject myself to such torture? "SWIMMERS TO THE BLOCKS, PLEASE." O.K. I can handle this. Hmm, is my cap on tight? I hope it doesn't fall off. There is nothing worse than going into your turns and feeling it slowly slip off your head. "LANE 3 TO THE BLOCKS. THIS IS THE 500 YARD FREESTYLE. TIMERS, THAT IS 20 LENGTHS OF THE POOL. TAKE YOUR MARK." BANG!!! Anyway, it seems we all made it to the water together. Hey, this isn't so bad. The first turn, it felt great. Come on, hold back a little this is a long race. Well, what goes through a person's mind now varies from swimmer to swimmer. You can have a super advanced swimmer, who is thinking to increase their kick to a 6 beat or to breathe every 6th or 8th stroke. Then you have the semi-serious hopeful swimmer, who is thinking, "I think I can, I know I can, NO PAIN! Hmm, maybe tonight I'll have a mushroom pizza with extra sauce." Well, now I've hit the 200 mark. I'm slowing down. I want to be able to sprint at the end. O.K. that's real cute. Please quit bobbing the counter. Sure that's fine just take out the counter before I can even focus on it. It's a good thing I learned how to count in the 1st grade. Do, Do, Do. So now I've reached the final 200. Only 8 more laps. Fudge, there goes the cap. It's almost torture to turn. With each turn the cap falls a centimeter or two. The lungs are starting to wheeze. All you can do is push. My worst fear — Having to sprint the final 100. Now what goes through your mind? Usually the Rocky Theme and The Little Train Who Could. You can do it. This is called positive thinking time. Sometimes it gives you that little extra push to make it. What is this? Year, it's the bright orange counter designating the last lap! I'm going to finish! I'm going to make the final turn with zeal and determination. Now it comes down to who can dig deeper into their gut. I'm digging, but will it be enough? All I hear are the bubbles of air coming out my mouth. Only about 10 more yards. I hear the crowd. My arms are burning NO PAIN blares through my mind. I touch, she touches. Who won? It's not important. The thrill of the 500 is what makes it appealing to the swimmer. A real swimmer is not afraid of an event. You can get nervous, but fear is not a part of the sport.

"Kick, how many 200's?"

Go Christy!

Raise your hand if you're sure.

A start is quicker than the eye.

With a little flexibility, you too can be a swimmer!

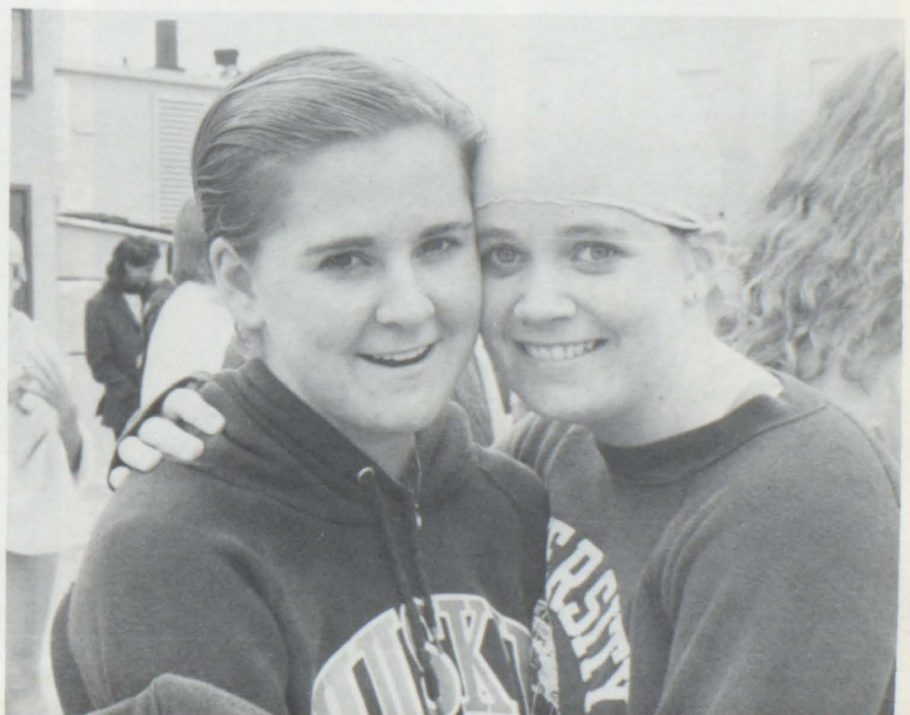

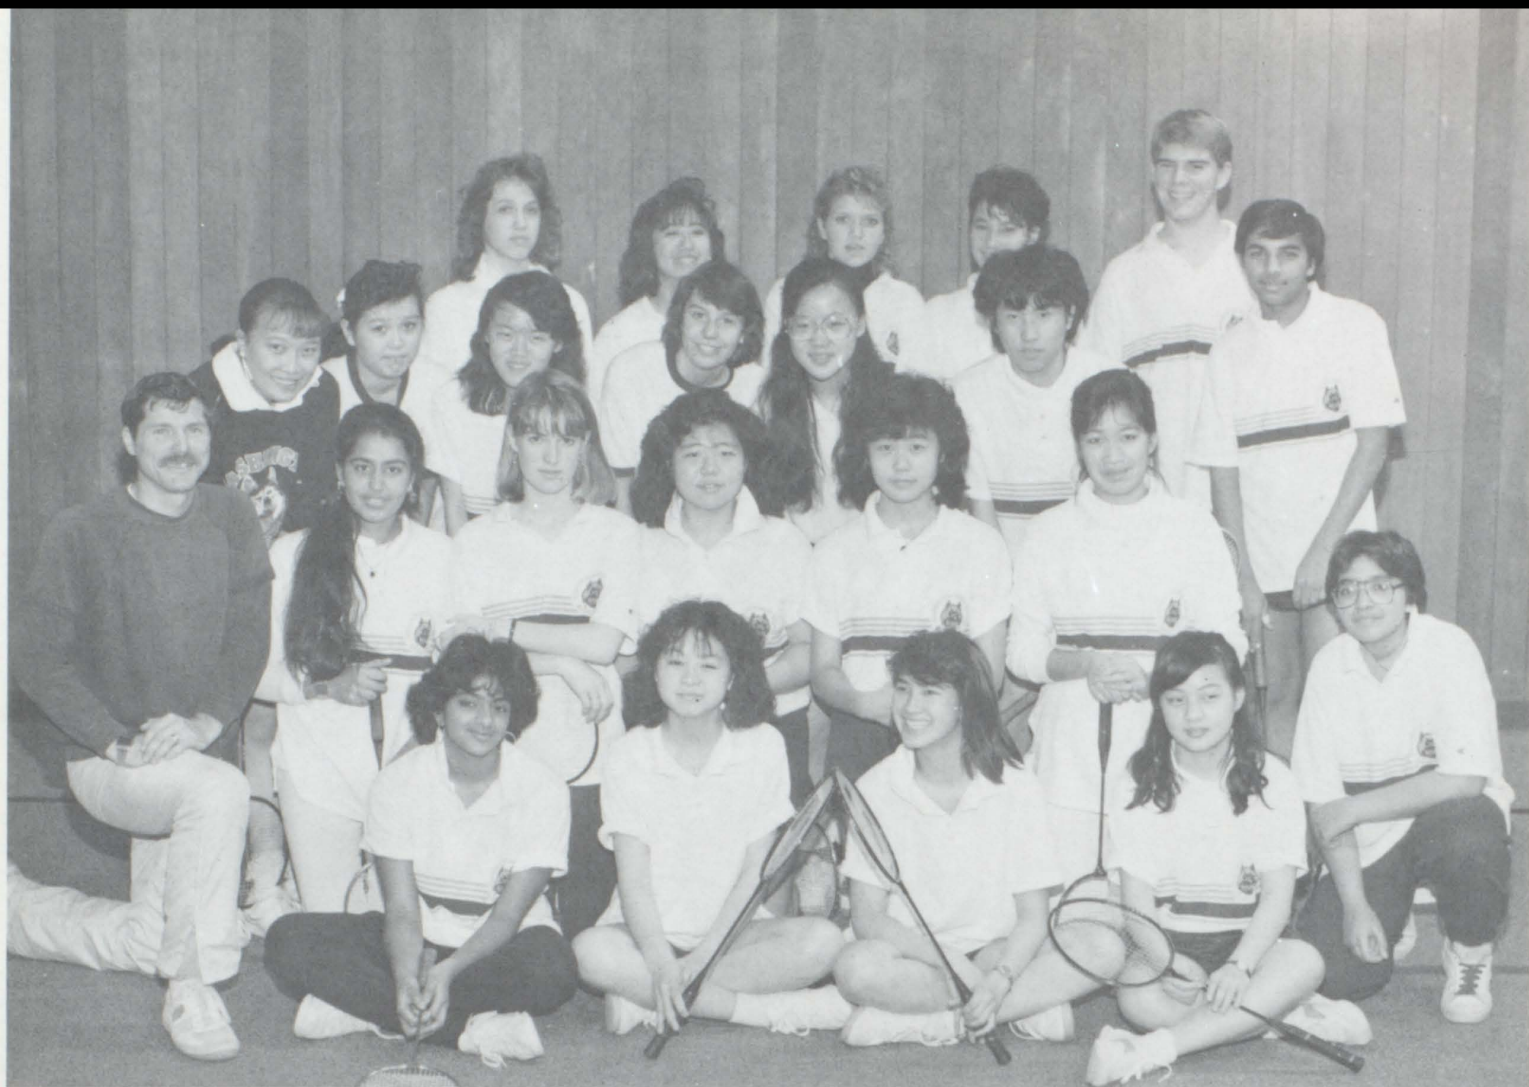

It's a bird... It's a plane... No it's a Washington Dogfish!

Another grueling workout.

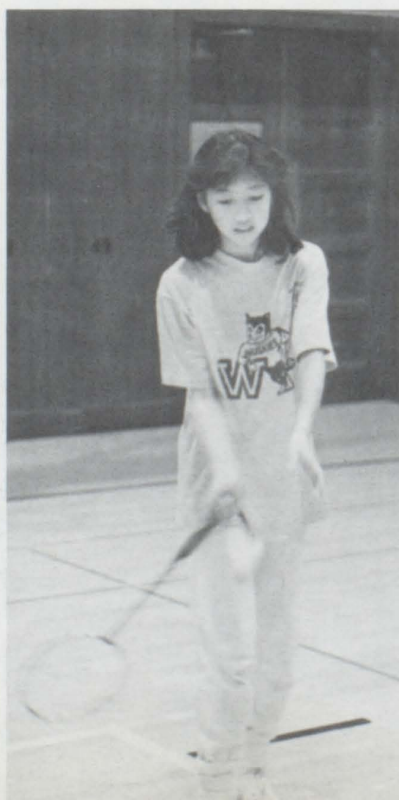

Lean, mean, swimmin' machine.
